A most elegant French late 19th century Louis XVI st. mahogany, tulipwood, charmwood, and ormolu games table. The table is raised by four circular fluted tapered legs with fine ormolu topie shaped feet and lovely ormolu top caps. Above the front three legs are fitted fluted ormolu plaques flanking the beautiful apron decorated with masterfully executed Marquetry à la Reine inlaid flowers in a lattice pattern. The top is also decorated with the same stunning inlaid pattern framed within an ormolu gallery which folds open to reveal a green felt game surface with a gold tooled border. A compartment beneath may be pulled out which extends the back leg to offer storage and support when the top is open. The top flips open to reveal a green felt gaming surface. All original patina and gilt throughout.
