A very high quality and extremely elegant French 19th century Louis XVI st. moucheté mahogany and Grand Antique marble cabinet. The two door cabinet is raised by most attractive square tapered legs with ormolu fitted sabots and cut corners. At the center are two doors each decorated with carved recessed panels showcasing the beautiful mahogany grain and framed within richly chased ormolu bands with fine coeur de rai designs. The sides also display the same striking moucheté mahogany grain with an elegant lightly curved design. The frieze displays one drawer decorated with additional carved recessed panels framed within mottled ormolu bands, fine berried laurel pulls and a lovely richly chased pierced foliate central keyhole escutcheon. Above is the original Grand Antique marble top with a mottled border.
