A unique most decorative Continental 19th century Gothic st. mahogany planter. The planter is raised by a hexagonal base with a fine mottled design and retaining its original casters. Elegant architectural columns flank decorative recessed panels with superb fillets in striking Gothic arches. The triangular central support displays additional beautiful fillets creating exceptional rosettes and bands leading up to richly carved scrolled foliate designs. The circular planter above displays finely detailed rosettes flanking by fine fillets with remarkable scrolled designs. Above is the original removable pewter insert framed within a mottled border.

Base Diameter: 23.75
