A beautiful and high quality French 18th century Louis XVI period giltwood bench. The bench is raised by elegant fluted baluster shaped legs with exceptionally carved acanthus leaf designs and topie shaped foliate feet below fluted block reserves each connected by a most decorative curved and mottled stretcher with a lovely central foliate finial. Above each leg are superb block rosettes flanking the pierced straight frieze with exquisite richly carved oak leaves and charming acorns centered by an additional block rosette with the back and sides decorated in a similar manner. All original gilt throughout.
