A most elegant French 18th century Régence period walnut, fruitwood, ormolu and Caunes marble commode. The three drawer serpentine shaped chest is raised by beautiful cabriole legs with striking hoof feet and foliate ormolu sabots. The scalloped shaped frieze is centered by a striking scrolled foliate ormolu mount with a fine palmette. At the center are three drawers, each decorated with richly chased pierced scrolled foliate ormolu pulls set on a walnut background, while the bottom drawer displays a superb family crest shaped keyhole escutcheon. At each corner are additional richly chased pierced scrolled foliate mounts with charming flowers while each serpentine shaped side showcases the beautiful walnut grain. Above is the original Caunes marble top with rounded corners and a fine mottled border. All original gilt throughout.
