A handsome French 19th century Louis XV st. Walnut side/center table. The table is raised by four elegant slender tapering cabriole legs joined by a double 'S' scrolled designed stretcher with a central turned finial. The legs lead to richly carved acanthus leaves flanking the scalloped shaped apron with a central seashell reserve centering foliate branches. The side aprons are decorated the same manner, with one side having a drawer. The rectangular top showcases a bombe shape with a wonderful mottled border. All original warm and rich patina throughout.
