A stunning and extremely high quality French 19th century Louis XVI st. Belle Époque period ormolu, white Carrara marble, Lapis Lazuli, and Baccarat crystal garniture set retailed by Tiffany & Co. The central striking annular clock is raised by elegant topie shaped ormolu feet below the oblong shaped white Carrara marble base. The base is decorated with beautiful pierced fitted ormolu plaques with finely detailed scrolled Rinceau shaped foliate designs at the front and back and intricately detailed interlocking floral garlands at each side. At the center are two finely detailed charming cherubs seemingly holding up the clock above and centering the foliate socle shaped pedestal support and circular wrap around intertwined floral bands set on a stunning blue enameled background. The annular clock above is centered by an exceptional Lapis Lazuli reserve set within a lovely foliate mount in an impressive satin and burnished finish. The thick Baccarat crystal body displays magnificent cuts and is encased by fine ormolu supports leading up the enameled wrap around dials with Roman hour numbers and Arabic minute numbers. The remarkable Baccarat crystal removable lid displays intricately detailed swaging floral garlands tied with charming ribbons and a superb richly chased central floral finial. The true pair of three arm candelabras at each side are raised in the same manner with fine ormolu topie feet below an oblong white Carrara marble base decorated with beautiful finely detailed foliate bands. At the centers are charming winged cherubs standing while draped in wonderfully executed swaging garments seemingly holding the spiraled central supports. Above are stunning branches and detailed blooming flowers growing out of the supports and leading to the arms with elegant and most charming floral candle cups.
