A striking and most elegant French 19th century Louis XVI st. giltwood and Brèche d'Alep marble console. The freestanding console is raised by circular tapered fluted legs with topie shaped feet below fine block rosettes and decorated with palmettes and wonderfully executed swaging garlands tied at the front. The legs are each connected by a curved stretcher with a delicate mottled border and an exceptional central finial of an urn with Greek key handles, wrap around interlocking patterns, and large acanthus leaves with richly carved swaging blooming flower garlands. Above each leg are lovely block reserves flanking the frieze decorated with a lovely central carved plaque with intricately detailed swaging floral garlands tied with charming ribbons and flanked by impressive Vitruvian scrolls in a superb satin and burnished finish. Above is the original Brèche d'Alep marble top with curved sides, squared corners and a fine mottled border. All original gilt throughout.
