A most decorative French 19th century Louis XVI st. patinated commode. The three drawer chest is raised by elegant square tapered fluted legs below the fine frieze with a lovely mottled patinated fillet at the border. The three drawers each display unique and most decorative mottled and recessed reeded designs with a beaded reserve centering the keyhole escutcheon and retaining their original hardware. Remarkable fluted columns lead up each side to a superb interlocking floral band extending above the drawers. The sides display a recessed panel with charming richly carved rosettes while the top retains its lovely original patinated finish. All original patina throughout.
