A stunning and extremely unique French 19th century Louis XVI st. patinated, giltwood and Rouge des Pyrénées marble console. The freestanding console is raised by remarkable circular tapered fluted legs with lovely foliate feet and richly carved acanthus leaf designs below striking ionic capitals adorned with swaging blooming flower garlands and connected by a most decorative concave stretcher with fine foliate carvings. Above each leg are additional richly carved block rosettes flanking stunning pierced patinated foliate designs with charming interlocking giltwood accents below a fine Les Oves designed band. Above is the original Rouge des Pyrénées marble top repeating the elegant shape of the console below and displaying a fine mottled border.
