An exceptional and most unique French early 19th century Louis XV st. giltwood Recamier chaise. The chaise is raised by six elegant cabriole legs with carved foliate designs and a lovely fillet which extends along each arbalest shaped side centered by a richly carved foliate reserve. At the foot of the chaise are upholstered panels framed within impressive and most decorative scrolled foliate designs and a beautiful lattice pattern. The head displays a wing back design with an elegant scrolled movement and additional lovely foliate carvings. Also finished and upholstered at the back with a carved seashell and laurel branches.
