An exceptional and very high quality pair of French 19th century Louis XV st. ormolu candelabra lamps attributed to François Linke. Each six arm lamp is raised by a striking wonderfully executed scrolled foliate circular base with unique ball and seashell feet, reeded designs, and striking richly chased dolphins in a superb satin and burnished finish. The tapered pierced baluster shaped central support displays intricately detailed swaging berried laurel garlands tied with a ribbon and three charming cherubs with large wings leading upwards. The beautifully scrolled arms above are each adorned with large acanthus leaves and fine foliate designs leading to luxuriant floral candle cups.

François Linke (1855-1946) Renowned 19th Century Parisian Ébéniste. Linke created historical interpretations of Louis XV and Louis XVI styles. He displayed at the Paris Universal Exhibition of 1900 where he received a gold medal.
