A stunning pair of French 19th century Louis XVI st. Biscuit de Sèvres porcelain and ormolu lidded urns. Each most elegant urn is raised by a fine square ormolu base with concave corners and lovely arch supports. The beautiful Biscuit de Sèvres porcelain socle shaped pedestals display finely detailed wrap around laurel bands and striking fluted spiral designs. The elegantly shaped bodies are encased in wonderfully executed leaves with charming flowers. Exceptional wrap around bands extend around the bodies with intricately detailed cherubs playing musical instruments, reading books amidst lovely foliate designs and flower baskets. Above the Les Oves designed ormolu bands, the slender lightly curved necks display fitted ormolu foliate chandelles leading up to the removable lids decorated with richly chased top acorn finials. All original gilt throughout.
