An elegant pair of French 19th century Louis XVI st. electrified two arm ormolu candelabras signed Susse Frères. Each candelabra is raised by ormolu topie shaped feet below the rectangular base with concave corners and decorative rich tied foliate band. At the center is a large satin polished crest with top acorn finial flanked by two fine S scrolled foliate arms adorned with acanthus leaves and a swaging floral garland. All original gilt. The Susse Frères firm is a renowned 19th century Parisian large foundry business. The company is well known for their fine bronze castings with superb chasing. After the death of Pierre-Jules Mène in 1879, the Susse Frères foundry acquired the rights to reproduce his models and produced posthumous proofs marked "Susse fondateur éditeur, Paris"
