An exquisite pair of French 19th century Louis XVI st. ormolu four arm candelabras mounted into lamps. Each lamp is raised by an impressive rectangular base with a charming scene of putti playing at the front and intricate pierced floral mounts at each side. The slender and most elegant central supports display beautiful interlocking bands at the bases, fluted designs flanked by striking scrolls and magnificent delicately chased swaging floral garlands. Above are lovely Romanesque portraits framed within berried laurel wreaths. Each of the four arms display striking and most decorative rinceau shapes and are adorned with lavish acanthus leaves. Each arm is finished with lovely floral candle cups and bobeches with intricately chased details in a superb rich satin and burnished finish. At the centers are equally detailed foliate supports leading upwards. All original gilt throughout.
