A spectacular and striking pair of French 1st Empire st. giltwood armchairs, circa 1805. Each armchair is raised by circular tapered legs with bottom ball supports, below laurel leaves and top burnished bands. The frieze is elegantly decorated by laurel branches flanking a central rosette and three rosettes at each side. The circular columns of the legs are topped by additional laurel leaves below the 'S' scrolled arms with a reeded top design and ending with a circular hand rest with a central carved flower. The center top of the upholstered back is decorated the same as the front frieze. Exceptional quality, proportions and style.
