A stunning and extremely high quality pair of French mid 18th century oil on canvas paintings in their original frames by Claude-Joseph Vernet. Each wonderfully executed painting is set within a most decorative mottled giltwood frame with beautiful richly carved scrolled foliate designs and fine palmettes at each corner. The painting to the left, entitled "La Cascade", depicts a charming clearing in the forest and a rock formation with a tree growing above and a waterfall flowing out. At the center are charming personages draped in period attire standing in front of a large boulder from where a tree grows. The painting to the right, entitled "Mer Houleuse", depicts a sailboat in tumultuous weather with waves crashing against the cliff where sailors are trying to pull their boat ashore. Wonderful attention to detail throughout.

(Claude) Joseph Vernet - Born in Avignon, Aug. 14, 1712 and died in Paris, Dec. 23, 1789. French school, he was a marine painter and son and pupil of Antoine Vernet and pupil of Adrien Manglard. He went to Rome in 1732 and studied under many great artist.
