A most handsome pair of French mid 19th century Empire st. patinated bronze and ormolu candelabras. Each candelabra is raised by a square base with ormolu supports and foliate designs below an acanthus leaf band. The front of the patinated base is richly chased pierced mount of laurel branches amidst flowers and a central eternal flame. Above is the circular patinated column with an ormolu berried laurel bottom band and top ormolu capital. The five outer 'C' scrolled arms surround the central vertical candlecp with a removable decorative ormolu flame. The outer arms are richly decorated with palmette designs and acanthus leaves leading to the patinated scalloped bobeche. All original gilt and patination. Wonderful proportions and presence.
