A stunning pair of Italian 19th century Baroque st. black polychrome, giltwood and faux painted marble consoles. Each console is raised by circular feet below a scalloped shaped bottom tier with a mottled giltwood border. At the center are most impressive and wonderfully executed giltwood and black polychrome scrolled movements centered by a large acanthus leaf and handsome swaging garlands above. The scalloped shaped top also displays a mottled border and its fabulous original faux painted marble finish. All original gilt and finish throughout. Unusually narrow depth giving an impressive design element without impeding a large footprint in to the room.
