An exceptional and most decorative Italian 19th century Louis XVI st. patinated, giltwood, and Portoro marble center table. The oblong table is raised by elegant circular tapered fluted legs with fine topie shaped feet with beautiful interlocking geometric designs and striking block rosettes above.

The frieze displays stunning richly chased tied swaging blooming floral garlands centering striking plaques with remarkable scrolled Rinceaux and acanthus leaf designs flanked by berried laurel patterns. Above is the original Portoro marble top fitted within an impressive mottled giltwood border. All original gilt and patina throughout.
