A sensational and rare Italian 19th century three piece Majolica planter. The large scale planter is raised by a triangular pedestal base with cut corners and large scrolled elements flanking a striking central palmette and superb scrolled foliate designs. The central support displays a fluted and foliate column design encased by three impressive and finely detailed Blue Herons standing on striking wonderfully executed ram heads. Above is the large bowl decorated with exceptional satyr faces amidst scrolled serpent designs leading up the handles tied by a blue fabric to a lovely wrap around foliate band. The bowl is also finished at the inside and retains its original fitted zinc insert. Wonderful vivid colors and outstanding proportions throughout.
