A stunning and extremely high quality Italian 19th century white Carrara marble statue on its original pedestal. The striking Vert de Patricia marble pedestal is raised by an octagonal base below a socle shaped pedestal support with an elegant mottled border. The circular lightly tapered central support displays a sculpted arched design and fine wrap around fillets below the circular display tier with a fine mottled border. The exquisite white Carrara marble statue above depicts a charming and wonderfully executed young girl playing with flowers. She is draped in a thin sheer flowing fabric while standing on a remarkable ground designed base next to rocks with lovely intricately detailed water flora and spectacular blooming flowers. She is holding a sensational richly sculpted swaging floral garland above her head with exceptional attention to detail throughout.
