A striking Italian early 19th century Louis XIV st. giltwood side table with a specimen marble top. The table is raised by fine topie shaped feet below block reserves and elegant square tapered legs with delicate foliate carvings. Above each leg are finely carved berried laurel wreaths and richly detailed swaging floral garlands decorate the frieze. The impressive marble specimen top is framed within a fluted border and displays a beautiful array of marbles including; Porphyry, Vert de Patricia, Rouge Royal, Portoro, Bleu Turquin to name a few. With all original gilt throughout.
