A spectacular and most impressive Italian early 19th century Venetian st. Giltwood mirror. This richly carved mirror is raised by two 'S' scrolled foliate supports flanking the pierced central reserve which is designed with similar scrolled leaves. The original mirror plate is surrounded by a mottled gilt border with convex corners. The two outer sides of the Giltwood frame are exquisitely embellished by bold floral branches with various blossoming flowers. The branches lead to the top with pierced scrolls. The top center has a central pierced reserve flanked by 'C' scrolls amidst additional foliate branches. Exceptional quality and proportions, with all original gilt and mirror plates throughout.
