A beautiful French early 19th century 1st Empire period terra cotta fireplace mantel, circa 1810. The mantel is raised by elegant jambs with mottled feet and beautiful most elegant designs of eternal flames in finely detailed Torchières. The straight frieze displays a fine mottled band, striking richly designed foliate Rinceau shaped scrolls and open winged sphinxes centering a lovely flower arrangement. The top displays a beautiful and most decorative acanthus leaf band at the border. All original patina throughout.
