An exquisite French 19th century Louis XVI st. mahogany, onyx, and ormolu center table, signed Forest. The table is raised by elegant circular fluted tapered legs with fine fitted ormolu laurel leaf sabots and lovely fitted foliate ormolu chandelles. Above each leg are block reserves with richly chased berried laurel ormolu mounts flanking the straight apron centered by an intricately detailed pierced ormolu mount of The Coronation of Mercury amidst scrolled foliate designs. Above is the original green onyx top fitted within a fine mottled border.

Maison Forest was established at 14 rue Pierre-Picard in 1883 and at 31 rue Cambaceres, Paris. The furniture produced by the firm stands out for its high quality gilt-bronze mounts and for its notable ebenisterie and fine decoration.
