A handsome and most elegant true pair of French 19th century Neo-Classical patinated bronze and black Belgian marble lamps. Each lamp is raised by a square mottled marble base with convex sides and a decorative carved recessed center. Above are richly sculpted patinated bronze classical figures of a beautiful maiden draped in a flowing drape, with a pan flute and water vase at her feet and a tambourine at her hip. To the right is a handsome man, also draped in flowing fabric with a staff and musical symbols at his feet and a tambourine at his hip. Both hold extremely decorative cornucopias with detailed foliate patterns and flowers with a striking frosted glass eternal flame torch. All original warm patina throughout.
