A very elegant French early 19th century Transitional st. kingwood and ormolu mounted three drawer commode. The commode with quarter panel veneers and kingwood fillets has cut corners with straight edges and is raised on rounded tapered square tapered legs. The bottom frieze is centered by a richly chased pierced ormolu mount with figure of Louis XVI amidst foliate scrolls below a ruban roué. Each of the three wide drawers retain the original richly chased ormolu pulls and keyhole escutcheons decorated with foliate chasing and a central cabochon. The impressive top has cut corners and displays quarter panel veneers creating a diamond pattern framed by quarter cut kingwood fillets. All original hardware, patina and gilt.
