A spectacular and most impressive French 19th century Louis XIV st. ebony, pewter and copper Boulle console. The two-tiered freestanding console is raised by fine bun feet below an elegant mottled base decorated with a lovely inlaid pewter fillet also repeated at the two shelves. The shelves are flanked by striking baluster shaped supports with additional beautiful pewter fillets and arch shaped designs. The straight apron displays one drawer with stunning extremely decorative pewter and copper scrolled Rinceau shaped foliate inlays with wonderfully executed and finely detailed floral accents and which opens to reveal all original hardware. Above is the French polished ebony top with an elegant mottled border.
