A very handsome and unique Italian 17th century Louis XIV Period walnut consoles/center table from Florence. The consoles may be displayed separately or when placed back to back may be used as a center table. Each console is raised on topie feet below the tapered supports joined by a scrolled X stretcher. At the front and at each side is a pierced scrolled apron with inverted finials. Above at the frieze is a wide drawer with bronze pulls centered by a keyhole escutcheon. All original warm patina throughout.
